

OUR STORYTELLER AND THE KNOWLEDGE HOLDERS

In this painting you can see the old storytellers, the old men and the old women, our ancestors gathering in the night sky, the oldest story tellers.

Today's knowledge holders (libraries) groups coming together within communities sharing their knowledge and their stories.

The colours are our oldest stories of our mother and our country.